

pudding Night Poem - to whet your appetite! by Sarah Fordham.

We're holding a "Just Desserts" evening.

Our puddings are going  for a song!

Eat oodles of puds for a  fiver.

You'd think I was having you on.

I know if you dine at a restaurant,

It's hard to get one for that price.

So speedily purchase your tickets.

I'm sure you don't need telling twice.

Please pencil the date in your diary.

It's the 18th of March, round the Hall. The event begins at 7.30.

Hot and cold puddings - sample them all.

Plus Ian, who's famous for "Bake Off"

on this eve, will attempt to produce, a great culinary creation -

it's the world's longest Charlotte Russe!

And while you are savouring puddings,

there's also a table top quiz,

Prosecco bar and a Grand Raffle,

(and a bar for those not wanting fizz).

The tickets are ready to purchase,

at Great Wilbraham Post Office Stores.

They're selling like hot cakes already, and they won't be for sale "on the door".
